DESCRIPTION

The Orofacial Pain Mini-Residency is a comprehensive 2-session, 40 CE Credit program designed to give dental practices the knowledge and guidance to fully incorporate orofacial pain treatment into their practice.

The program is led by industry mentors Dr. Mayo Patel, DDS, MS, Dr. Terry Bennett, DMD, and Dr. Greg Essick, DDS. With an emphasis on hands-on learning, attendees gain the skills and confidence needed to be successful in all aspects of TMD & craniofacial pain treatment.

Session 1 consists of neuroanatomy, the concepts and fundamentals of pain, musculoskeletal disorders, neuropathic disorders, neurovascular disorders, and hands-on examination and documentation systems, and finishing with medical billing for TMD treatment.

Session 2 includes imaging, pharmaceuticals, and adjunct therapy for orofacial pain. Therapy for craniomandibular disorders, orthotic therapy, and a review of other common orofacial pain conditions is covered before diving into hands-on injection therapy, and closing with sleep and pain, and case studies.

By the end of session 2, participants will be ready to grow their practice, treat more cases, and help more patients through orofacial pain treatment.
